TRUSTEES PLAN TO ACT AFTER O.S.U. FUND CUT

Chairman Says Extra Session May Be Called Before July 8

HINTS AT NEW HEAD

Democrats in Lorain It May Be Time To Look for New President

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 24—A special meeting of Ohio State university trustees to adjust operations in accord with Gov Davey's slash in appropriations

C of Marietta chairman of the board stated we may have a special session before the regular meeting the second Monday in July (July 8)

The latest development in the controversy between President George W Rightmire of the university and Gov Davey who said Sunday "we'd better get a new head if the university can't carry on on its reduced funds" the governor speaks at Lorain

He did not mention the university head by name but before Democratic followers at Lorain he replied to Rightmire's criticism of his action and declared it may be time to look for a new administration

Rightmire met this onslaught with a laugh and stated "we're behind our previous state appropriation 10 per cent" He said that he had not been informed of a special session of the board

Expressing every confidence in President Rightmire Kaiser said that "to operate on the reduced funds it may be that some department will have to be dropped or courses eliminated

"I don't believe that this is as serious as either side think" he said "We have had these differences before It is just the case of two men differing"

The governor at Lorain also said that Ohio State has been spending $285 a student while the other state supported institutions were doing as good a job for $71

Dr Bradford of Columbus president of the Ohio State Alumni association promptly protested that this was not a fair comparison as it neglected the more extensive educational facilities offered by the university

Bradford pledged the support of the alumni to Rightmire but said "I am sorry to see this fight between the university and the governor It makes it difficult to adjust differences"

The reduction in funds for Ohio State and the other state schools included in the $5,800,000 Davey vetoed from the biennial appropriations bill probably will be aired at a session of the state controlling board Tuesday

Although the various divisions affected by the slashes are expected to seek transfers of funds as suggested by Davey the board may not grant them on the ground they are not authorized

Davey also told the Democrats Ohio had been saved $2,000,000 through his action in connection with the relief controversy and said that unless the sales tax yield increases a special session of the legislature may be necessary to provide new taxes

TO BEGIN INVENTORY OF GAS CO. PROPERTY

Study to Guide Ohio Commission in Considering New Rate for Marion

Preparation of a complete inventory of Marion property of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co was begun this morning by J I Marsh engineer of the state utilities commission assisted by Clyde Alstadt of Columbus representing the gas company

The inventory will serve as a guide to the commission in its consideration of a proposed higher gas rate for Marion sought by the company

Mr Marsh said his work here will consist of examination of the records A number of excavations will be made to permit him to examine the mains and Mayor Clarence A Bolin has designated City Engineer Cathers to be present as a representative of the city when excavations are made

Marsh said his work here will be finished possibly in a week or ten days and that other phases of the inventory will be started

V. F. W MUSTERS IN THREE POSTS

Public Ceremony Marks Institution of Marion Kenton and Marysville Groups

CHARLES SAWYER SPEAKS

Principles of Organization Lauded Mayor Bolin Extends Welome

Forty four new members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars were mustered in at a triple installation of the Marion Marysville and Kenton posts Sunday afternoon at the Marion armory The installation was conducted by a degree team from the Theodore Grimes post No 1301 of Springfield O The principal speaker at the ceremonies a part of which was open to the public was Charles Sawyer former Ohio lieutenant governor and V F W member

A parade which moved west on Center street and across Olney avenue to the armory preceded the mustering in party It was led by V F W officers and a drum and bugle corps from the Springfield post Following were veterans and the Eagles lodge band

Other Speakers

Other speakers included Mayor C A Bolin Frank M Kirwin state V F W adjutant Marvin S Young of Springfield zone commander and Earl L Hollida former Marion man now living in Springfeld

The next meeting of the Veterans post of Marion will be held at the armory Tuesday night at 7 30 o clock Veterans who were unable to attend the ceremonies yesterday will be mustered in and all eligible veterans who are desirous of affiliating with the local post are urged to be present and become a part of the charter class Arrangements will be completed for the Marion delegation to go to the state V F W encampment at Lima June 27 28 29 and 30

Asserting World war veterans should receive preferred treatment as a class Charles Sawyer in delivering the principal address of the afternoon urged a more friendly and charitable attitude toward former soldiers by the citizens and government of the United States Because of his willingness to serve on the battlefields of the war and expose himself to mortal wounds or permanent injuries the veteran if he returned is entitled to some preference in payment for his sacrifice and service he said

Mr Sawyer pointed out what he believes should be the attitude of the average citizen toward the veteran and what the attitude of

SPAGHT SHUNS AID'S CHARGES AT MARYSVILLE

Says He Knows Nothing of Improper Conditions in Reformatory.

WILL START OWN INQUIRY

Food Examiner Says Prison Status Deplorable and Moral Conditions Bad

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 24—Oakley Spaght assistant state director of welfare said today that he knew nothing of reports that George C Williams state chief of prison and food equipment had made sensational charges involving conditions in Marysville reformatory for women

Spaght said he would make his own investigation of the Marysville situation

While Williams could not be located here unconfirmed reports were to the effect that he had stated inmates at Marysville reformatory were being confined in dungeons unfit for occupancy and that moral conditions were deplorable

Sent to Mansfield

"I did not send Williams to Marysville" Spaght said "I sent him to Mansfield reformatory late in May and that was the last official assignment"

Williams a resident of Cincinnati was appointed to his present post by Gov Davey

Spaght said that Williams assigned to improve food conditions in state institutions had taken it upon himself to issue certain unauthorized orders to heads of institutions He had warned Williams he said that any reports about state institutions were to be made through the welfare department and that disregard of the order might result in his dismissal

Immoral conditions said Spaght exist in every penal institution "I have marveled" he added "at the good jobs the heads of these institutions have done with the facilities at hand I am surprised that the state has not moved before this to correct certain conditions in some of the welfare institutions"

Tells of Trip to Cellar

Spaght said he had learned Williams had spent about 15 minutes at the Marysville reformatory recently and that while there he made a trip into a cellar correctional cell block A woman inmate in this block told Williams Spaght said that she was being disciplined for a minor infraction of rules while the attendant on duty addressing the inmate said "why don't you tell him the truth?"

Spaght indicated he felt Williams had talked out of turn about the Marysville reformatory and that he would call the action of the agent to the attention of the governor

WILL RECOMMEND HOSPITAL CHANGES

Safety Director W N Sams To Submit Report To City Council Tonight

Safety Director W N Sams is expected to outline to city council tonight his recommendations for future operation of the City hospital

Mr Sams today said he has prepared brief written recommendations after checking over the present method of operation and studying the management methods used in two other hospitals

Council which abolished the positions of hospital superintendent and assistant superintendent two weeks ago is awaiting the safety director's recommendations before setting up a new management method

Council also is expected to consider an ordinance identical with the state law for driving while intoxicated If enacted this ordinance would enable the city to prosecute drunken driving cases and place fines for that offense in the city treasury In cases prosecuted under state law the fine goes to the county municipal court attaches said

BORAH BACKING AIDS TAX PLAN

Idahoan Claims Program For Bigger Levy on Wealth 'Sound in Principle '

LEADERS TO FORCE ISSUE

LaFollette Bloc Vows To Hitch Rider Unless Roosevelt Presses for Action

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON June 25 — Senator Borah's declaration that President Roosevelt's proposals for new taxation on wealth is "sound in principle" lent encouragement today to a group of legislators fighting to put such a plan across this session

The group in which Sen LaFollette (Progressive of Wisconsin) is prominent gave notice that unless the administration pressed a separate bill at this session to carry out the Roosevelt program they would force the issue by offering it as a rider to a pending resolution extending $500,000,000 in nuisance taxes

To Consult President

Still apparently uncertain as to whether the President wants the new program passed now or at a later session Democratic leaders planned to consult him shortly to get his views

Realizing that attempts to amend the nuisance tax resolution would lead to indefinite delay leaders have urged against such action Most of the new levies expire June 30 and the leaders want them renewed before that time

Speaking for a sizeable group in both parties LaFollette said he would offer amendments to raise an estimated $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000 of revenue "unless we can get a definite assurance that a separate bill is going to be passed"

LaFollette was encouraged over the outlook especially since Borah Idaho Republican and often a critic of the new deal came out for the President's recommendations for an inheritance tax and higher levies on large individual and corporation incomes

In a formal statement last night Borah described the proposals as

WEEK-END ACCIDENTS BRING DEATH TO TWO

WOMAN AERIALIST DIES IN "SLIDE FOR LIFE" ACT

Former Resident of Marion Falls to Death as Tight Wire Breaks at Charleroi Pa

The colorful career of a former Marion woman who chose the spangles and spotlights of an aerialist's life and the billing of "queen of the air" came to a tragic end Saturday afternoon when her daring "slide for life" cost her her life in Charleroi Pa

She was Mrs Vera Diabenett Spriggs Senior about 45 who fell 165 feet to her death when the taut wire on which she was starting her slide sagged suddenly and hurled her to the ground Her neck was broken and virtually every bone in her body was crushed according to word received by relatives here

For more than 20 years she thrilled circus and carnival crowds and hundreds of children out to see her performance Saturday saw the slim blond in silk tights mount to her 165 foot perch and fasten a pulley on a wire which slanted at an angle to the earth They saw her grip the pulley in her teeth and begin the slide and then they saw the slim body suddenly fall to earth pierced by a sharp stake

Husband Son In Show

The husband William Senior and their 8 year old son Billy Jr billed as "The Boy Clown" were in an adjoining tent putting on their clowning act when the accident occurred Mrs Senior lived only about 10 minutes and never regained consciousness She died before an ambulance reached a hospital

F Lawrence Phillips owner of the show said one of the supporting posts or wires had apparently worked out of position according to a news report The same report stated that authorities said death was accidental and expressed the opinions that there would be no inquest

In 1932 the aerialist who started her career at the age of 17 as a bareback rider with the Ringling Bros circus headed her own show Vera Spriggs & Co at the Marion county fair daily thrilling patrons with her feats of daring She also appeared once the same year at the Palace theater During her career she also had appeared with the Barnum & Bailey and Hagenbeck Wallace circuses

The father and son quit the show immediately after the accident Saturday and made arrangements to return the body to the Senior home in Wernerts Corners near Toledo for funeral services and burial Tuesday

Born Near Richwood

Mrs Senior was born near Richwood the daughter of the late Clark and Laura Diabenett When she was a child they moved to Marion and she lived here until she was about 17 years of age

She came back to Marion about 20 years ago retiring to raise her adopted daughter Ilia Marie daughter of a close friend who had died and established a home on West Center street The child was enrolled at St Mary Parochial school in accordance with the mother's wishes When the child died about 13 years ago the foster mother went to Toledo to live with her sister and to reenter the theatrical world

After her divorce from her first husband whose name she continued to use in her act she was married to William Senior who had his own act of trained horses and dogs They traveled together and after their son was born he was put in the father's act

Two months ago Mrs Senior was here for a short visit with relatives before going to South Carolina to join the carnival with which she was working when she met her death

Among the relatives living in Marion are an aunt Mrs Ella Martin of [illegible] Sharpless street and a nephew Clyde Walters of [illegible] West Center street She also leaves a brother [illegible] Diabenett [illegible] two half sisters Evelyn and Kathleen Diabenett [illegible] and a number of cousins in the vicinity of Marion

Scot Sets Pace In British Open Tourney Starter

MacDonald Smith Shoots Six Under Par for First Round Score of 66

By The Associated Press

MUIRFIELD Scotland June 24 — MacDonald Smith the veteran Scot who makes his headquarters at Glendale Calif laid claim early to the stroke-making honors in the 36 hole qualifying round for the British open golf championship today with a six under par first round 66 fired over the neighboring Gullane course

The 45 year old veteran who has been seeking a major title for more than a score of years toured the first nine in 34 one under par and then came back in 32 displaying some of the finest golf ever shot in this Heather country

Smith was one of three early finishers to break par on the Gullane course Bad driving rather than the elements contributed to a first round 75 for William Lawson Little Jr the broad shouldered Californian and world amateur champion his tee shots hit the fairways on only two holes over Muirfield

Little's score appeared safe enough to qualify him if he matches it tomorrow

While there is no official record for Gullane the course professional declared Smith's 66 was the lowest round ever recorded there He said he could recall none under 69 prior to today

After going out in 34 Henry Cotton the defending champion required 37 strokes for the second nine and posted a first round 71 — one higher than the pace-setting Burton on the Muirfield course

Cecile Sawyer a young professional from Birkdale gave Smith a close race in the barrage of low scores over Gullane with a 33 35 68 Joe Ezar the smiling American from Waco Tex came up with a 71 fashioned from a 34 37

Joe Kirkwood the trick shot artist from Chicago found a place among the leaders with a fine par 72 through the mist and wind over Muirfield He was even fours on each nine

MILLION FAIR LOSS FOUND IN 14 YEARS

Survey Shows Cost of Farm Exhibit, Exclusive of Payroll Overhead

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O June 24 Operation of the Ohio State fair exclusive of payrolls and overhead resulted in a loss of $1,109,285 during the last 14 years the Ohio government survey reported today

The deficit was almost equally divided between maintenance of the fair and of the 150 acre fair grounds itself The fair loss was $540,285 while that for keeping up the grounds was $569,000

Statistics on file with the auditor of state the survey committee reported showed that the losses range from $7,856 in 1921 to $93,454 in 1931 During the same period attendance at the annual agricultural exhibit increased from 159,774 to 200,637 in 1924 Free admission and service tickets brought 75,711 through the turnstiles last year

In addition to the losses reported the committee said the fair department had an annual payroll of about $40,000

POLICE-CRIME LINK CITED IN SHAKEUP AT ST. PAUL

Four Officers Discharged and Five Others Including Chief Suspended Following Expose

By The Associated Press

ST PAUL June 24 Ned Warden commissioner of public safety today dismissed four police officers and suspended five others including Chief of Police Michael Culligan after disclosing an alleged connection between the police department and gambling and underworld activities

Those discharged for alleged complicity in a race horse lottery slot machine operations a tipoff system on raids and disorderly houses were

James Crumley assistant chief of police and one of the oldest men in the department

Fred W Raasch assistant to Crumley

Detectives Raymond D Flannagan and Michael McGinnis

Those suspended with Chief Culligan were Charles Tierney inspector of detectives Lieut Thomas Dahill former chief of police and Charles J McGowan and Patrick Pidgeon department employee

Commissioner Warren in announcing the wholesale shakeup in a letter to Mayor Mark H Gehan said that other discharges and suspensions probably would follow.

Commissioner Warren's letter to Mayor Mark H Gehan said

"Specifically we found a startling connection between certain police officials and a ring of gamblers who were conducting a race horse lottery on a large scale In addition we have surprising evidence of police ownership of slot machines a tip-off system on raids police connection with prostitution police political activities police efforts to block proper management of the department a sensational and illicit connection between police and criminal lawyers and many other activities In some cases police officials and gamblers communicated with each other under code designations

"Approximately 400 phonograph records were made These when transcribed made more than 3,000 pages of typewritten evidence

"Copies of this evidence will be transmitted to you

"In some of the cases flagrant neglect of duty rather than dishonesty is the reason for the action taken

"I am sure that you can be counted upon for whole hearted cooperation in this effort to give St Paul better police protection.'

FORMER AGENT FOR SEC HELD

Accused of Being Principal In $27 500 Bribery Plot In New York City Suburb

NABBED IN OIL MAN S HOME

Room Equipped With Detectaphones Stenographers To Trap Suspect

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK June 24 A former investigator for the federal securities and exchange commission seized in the detectaphone equipped home of a wealthy oil royalties dealer was held a federal prisoner today accused by his captor of being the principal in a $27,500 bribery plot

Federal authorities declined to say what charge would be placed against the man William B Raybell 41 of Pelham N Y pending arraignment during the day before a United States commissioner

J Edward Jones who brought about the arrest when Raybell called at the Jones estate in suburban Scarsdale yesterday charged him with violation of a state bribery statute Local authorities however have waived prosecution in favor of the government

Called for Thursday

Jones frequently a critic of the new deal and particularly the securities commission was under a commission subpoena to appear next Thursday in a hearing connected with his registration of a security issue

Raybell who had resigned by request from the commission staff on June 20 was accused by Jones of offering to "fix things up" for $27,500 tipping him on points of the commission's case and influencing documentary testimony in Jones behalf

From his contacts with the former agent Jones asserted he learned he was the victim of political persecution and had been framed

The broker said Raybell first demanded $30,000 but on a visit to

SENATORS ASK CURB ON PROFIT

Demand Laws To Prevent "Collusion" in U. S. Shipbuilding.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 24 -- Demanding a big stick policy to "police" builders of warships and prevent them from confusing "public defense needs with their private pockets" the senate munitions committee today urged a four-point legislative program to:

1. Prevent "collusion" in bidding for navy construction jobs.

2. Prevent American patents from getting into the hands of foreign powers.

3. Limit profits to 5 per cent of the total cost to the government in cases where the government assumes the risks of the enterprise or to 10 per cent where the government does not.

Wants Lobbyists Registered

4. Require that shipbuilders lobbyists register with the government and disclose their income and expenditures.

Some shipbuilders, said the committee headed by Sen. Nye, Republican of North Dakota "are certainly not above suspicion of willingness to wave the flag or to circulate war scares in the plain and simple interests of their own pocketbooks, regardless of results."

The committee, making a preliminary report on an investigation to determine where "collusion" existed, held that there was "telepathy" among shipyard officials in dealing with each other so that each got the ship contracts it wanted at profits ranging as high as 36 per cent.

"The private shipbuilders," the report said, "should very definitely be policed in any and all moves made by them or through them to confuse public defense needs with their private pockets, or should be cut off entirely from the building of ships for the navy."

It declared the navy was "at the mercy" of the yards in preparing plans for warships and equally helpless at determining what prices were fair.

"A series of bids are put before the navy," the report recited. "And the navy has to take the low one, and the taxpayers have to hope and pray that the low one is somewhere within a few million dollars of being reasonable."

As a first corrective effort, the committee made its recommendation of the legislation, which already has been introduced into congress.

BORAH BACKING AIDS SHARE-WEALTH PLAN

He did not see them as a "soak the-rich or share-the-wealth idea but rather as a "share the burden-of government program."

He declared it was proper to "take care of our vast expenditures to a larger degree through heavier taxes and added that if the taxes were "wisely laid such a program will be more conducive to recovery than the reckless voting of bonds and the increase of the interest burden." Continuing, he said:

"The plan proposed would be a fake as a distribution of wealth program, but it will tend greatly to bring us to a realization of what these expenditures really mean, and is sound in principle.

Not Soak Rich Plan

"Neither can it be said that it is a soak-the-rich program.

"All winter states have been voting sales taxes which soak the poor. In addition to that many taxes supposed to be laid at a particular point slip down the economic ladder until they find some one who can pass them no farther.

"This program ought to be considered as a just and timely readjustment of our tax laws in the light of our stupendous expenditures."

LaFollette said the 22 senators he had lined up behind a pledge to remain in session, even if it took all summer, to enact the President's program was by no means the minimum strength he believed existed.

V. F. W. MUSTERS IN THREE POSTS HERE

the veteran toward the citizen should be "Citizens are too prone to forget that day nearly 20 years ago when the young men of America marched down Main street in every town and hamlet in the country, bound for the shell-torn fields of Europe."

And the veteran should remember that his war service places upon him a greater obligation to his country in peacetime, he said. "No group is better fitted to serve the government and the people."

Welcomed by Mayor

Mayor Bolin in his address of welcome, also stressed the inclination of the American people to forget the service rendered their country by World war veterans. He recalled the day the first Marion company left for the training camps. He pointed to the universal joy of Armistice day in November of 1918, and pointed out that after that day people tried to forget the war. "They did forget—they forgot too much" he said. "In the joy of our own security we forgot the price the soldier paid."

Mayor Bolin pointed to the principles and objectives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars as being welcome to Marion, and offered his cooperation in establishing the post firmly among the patriotic and civic organizations of the city.

Frank M. Kirwin state V. F. W. adjutant, in a brief talk outlined three objectives of the V. F. W. and a seven-point program being sponsored by the national organization.

The three objectives are service and aid to the widows and orphans of veterans, care for disabled veterans, and the preservation of American ideals that have helped place America at the top among world powers, he said.

We are now concentrating on a seven-point program to benefit the veterans and the people of the United States, he said. Kirwin outlined the seven points as follows. (1) The care of disabled veterans, whom he labeled the unfortunate victims of piecemeal legislation. (2) Care of the widows and orphans of the dead veterans, who are now forced to accept public charity. (3) Cash payment of the soldiers bonus. (4) Deportation of alien agitators against the government. (5) Conscription of the resources of capital and industry in the next war. (6) Full and complete government control of the manufac*ture of all armaments.* (7) An adequate national defense.

Layton Introduced

Marvin S. Young, zone commander, introduced Francis S. Layton, commander of Cooper post of the G. A. R. and senior vice commander of the state G. A. R., who was taken into the V. F. W. yesterday. All Civil war veterans are welcome to affiliate with the organization as honorary members. Mr. Layton also marched in the parade.

Earl Holliday, former Marion man, spoke briefly in welcoming members of other veteran organizations to affiliate with the V. F. W. Mayor Tobinson of Marysville was introduced.

D. J. Finley, commander of the Veterans post of Marion, acted as chairman of the meeting and introduced the speakers. The secret mustering in ceremonies followed the public program.

Officers and members installed from the Marysville post are Frank Gilbert, commander; Clarence Brown, senior vice commander; Lewis Fox, junior vice commander; George Schiegel, quartermaster; Carl Speas, chaplain; Clyde Romine, judge advocate; Everett Mercer, officer of the day; Carlton Forry, guard.

Officers and members of Kenton post installed are James W. Cronk, commander; Turner H. Wise, senior vice-commander; C. H. [illegible], junior vice-commander; W. L. Per[illegible], quartermaster; Cecil Hall, post adjutant; [illegible] Myers, officer of the day; A. D. Stuart, chaplain; P. [illegible], trustee for six months; L. C. Everhart, trustee for 12 months; Martin Ruhs and Ted Winkle.

The commander and several officers and members of the newly organized post at Delaware, O., attended the parade and ceremonies at the armory.

ARREST LANCASTER MAN IN THEFT CASE

Brother-in-Law of Man in Custody Held for Burglary Probe.

Edwin Clark, 29, of Lancaster was held in the county jail today as county authorities continued their investigation of burglaries of the Kester Rice and Charles Osborn farm residences near Caledonia last April 29 in which loot valued at $100 was taken.

Clark, Sheriff Miller said, was arrested in Lancaster Saturday as a suspected accomplice of John Persinger, about 25, of near Caledonia, who he said has admitted taking the loot. Persinger is now awaiting grand jury action on a charge of breaking and entering.

The sheriff quoted Clark, who he said was a brother-in-law of Persinger, as saying he was with Persinger the night of the burglaries but did not realize Persinger was taking property that belonged to other persons.

He was quoted by the sheriff as saying he intended to take Persinger to the southern part of the state that night and that Persinger had told him to wait near the Osborn and Rice homes until he (Persinger) could get some of his things. Not until they were 10 miles south of Marion did Persinger explain the articles had been stolen, Sheriff Miller quoted Clark as saying.

No charge had been filed against Clark late this morning. He is mar*ried and is the father of two chil*dren.

Sheriff Miller said he, with the help of Clark and authorities in Lancaster, Gallipolis and Logan, has recovered approximately half of the assorted loot taken in the two burglaries.

institution, to rectify certain conditions, but without success.

Mrs. Mittendorf said the lives of herself and of an assistant had been threatened by one inmate and that it was necessary to put the prisoner in a correctional cell.

Says She Should Be In Lima

The prisoner, she said, is Lucy Marston, 32, who was sentenced for robbery from Zanesville and who she added should be in the state hospital for the criminal insane at Lima.

The Marston woman told George C. Williams, state chief of prison and food equipment, Mrs. Mittendorf said, that she had received only a bowl of cereal for breakfast, a bowl of soup for lunch and "leavings" for dinner.

Mrs. Mittendorf denied this, saying the woman was served the same food other inmates received, although it was carried to her cell.

The superintendent was somewhat critical of the procedure used by Williams in his investigation last Saturday.

Came in Backdoor

He entered the reformatory through a rear entrance and began questioning prisoners without making her aware he was present, she said.

Informed of the institution's need for a psychopathic ward to replace the cells he described as "dungeons," Williams declared "I'll get you one right away," Mrs. Mittendorf said.

Williams did not talk with "intelligent" girls but confined his questions to the incorrigibles, the superintendent said.

She said he inquired of every one if they had engaged in sexual abuses, to which the answer was "no."

She said she "begged" him to look at the girls' records as she had for years requested other state officials to do, but he refused.

"Everybody knows there are perverts here" she remarked, "but what are you going to do when they send them here and insist that you take care of them. We do our best to segregate them."

She referred to what she termed "those awful girls from Delaware (Girls' Industrial school) who are sent here because they can not manage them at Delaware."

Claims Charges Untrue

As for charges of inmates that Mrs. Mittendorf showed favoritism to Inez Palmer, convicted slayer, the superintendent said John McSweeney, former state welfare director, found them to be untrue.

Dwelling on the need for building improvements, Mrs. Mittendorf said:

"Of course the cellar correctional cells are unfit, but what can I do about it after appealing to the state for a psychopathic ward. I can't go out and build new buildings myself."

The regular rooms of the prisoners, she said, are clean.

"Why am I to be condemned?" Mrs. Mittendorf asked. "I have done the best I could with what I have to work with."

Mrs. Mittendorf was appointed superintendent of the reformatory after serving three years as matron of the Dayton workhouse of which her husband was superintendent. Previously she had served several years as the state's first woman probation officer.

MAIL CARRIERS HOLD MEETING

Rural Route Association Elects Officers, Organizes Auxiliary Here.

Eighty members of the Rural Letter Carriers association from the six counties in the eighth congressional district held their semi-annual meeting and banquet Saturday night at the American Legion dugout on South High street. A Marion county branch of the Ladies auxiliary was organized with Mrs. Earl Stansbery of Marion as president.

Speakers at the banquet were Leo C. Warrement of Tiffin, state president of the association; Earl E. Thomas, Marion county representative to the state legislature; Hobart Baker of London, O., editor of "The Ohio Rural Carrier"; A. L. French, of Washington C. H.; Lester O. Farver of Millersburg, state vice president, and Paul Parsons, of Johnstown, secretary of the road and legislative committee.

Greets Visitors

A. G. Uncapher, superintendent of mails here, delivered the address of welcome to which W. C. Wilhelm, of Bucyrus, vice president of the district association, and Mrs. J. N. Taylor of the Ladies' auxiliary of Bucyrus responded.

Visiting carriers were here from Coshocton and Defiance and from Fayette, Holmes, Madison and Seneca counties.

Mr. Farver in his talk, pointed out that there are more than 200,000 miles of mud roads traveled daily by rural carriers in the United States and that the carriers do not object to paying a liquid fuel tax and other automobile fees, but that they do object to the diversion of these taxes for other purposes other than for road upkeep and improvement.

Mr. Parsons stressed the importance of the road reports as proof to congressmen of the need of work and improvement of mud and secondary roads.

Other officers elected in the formation of the Ladies' auxiliary were Mrs. William Lempke of Marion, vice president; Mrs. Charles W. Ferguson of Morral, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Guy Hoffman of Prospect, delegate to the state convention to be held at Zanesville; and Mrs. Charles Kirby of Prospect, her alternate.

Entertain Guests

Featured on the entertainment program was Elmer Bondley, postal *employe, and his imitations of musi*cal instruments, including the "Little German Band." Other features included music by the "Pied Pipers" orchestra, and song and dance numbers by Betty Carpenter of Marion.

The banquet was served by the Daughters of Union Veterans. Invocation was pronounced by James S. Whaley, rural carrier of Marion. H. N. Geddes of Caledonia, eighth district president, presided at the meeting as chairman. N. D. James of Marion, secretary of the district association, read a report of the semi-annual meeting held at Kenton last September. The next meeting will be held in Wyandot county in September.

FORMER SEC AGENT HELD IN BRIBE PLOT

the Jones home Friday night agreed on $27,500, returning yesterday to collect a $250 down payment.

Many Listening In

Wren Raybell, stocky, baldish and married, drove up to the Jones residence yesterday. Detectaphones nestled behind radiators, pictures and in a radio cabinet in the oil man's "den." In the attic two stenographers sat with headphones and poised pencils. A phonograph recording device was hooked up.

Other listeners-in were two department of justice agents with John J. Burns, SEC counsel, Lieut. Arthur Carney of the Scarsdale police, Assistant District Attorney William Horan of Westchester county and two attorneys for Jones.

The broker said he handed Raybell the money and as he was about to depart the two federal men emerged. Jones declared the money later was found behind a door in the dining room.

Sees Racket Revealed

Afterward Jones issued a lengthy statement which, in part said the arrest "will point the way toward a real racket, which should give true and loud warning to legitimate business men in this country who innocently place confidential information at the disposal of a commission which has a house of its own to clean.

PITTS MAKES GOOD SHOWING AT ALBANY

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., June 24.—Seasoned baseball critics today predicted a bright future for Alabama Pitts in the sport he played behind Sing Sing prison walls.

The opinion was almost unanimous that the smiling southerner, performing like a veteran both at bat and in center field, demonstrated in no uncertain terms yesterday in his organized baseball debut that he has the makings of a first class minor, if not major league, player.

Appearing in the lineup of the Albany International league club for the first time since he was ruled eligible, Alabama in a double-header with Syracuse banged out two singles in eight times at bat, drove in a run, scored another himself and accounted for five putouts. The team, however, lost both games 8 to 6, and 3 to 2.

"He played marvelous ball," said General Manager Johnny Evers, who with Warden Lewis E. Lawes was responsible for giving the broadshouldered Pitts a chance in the sport.

WILLIAM C. DAVIS DIES AT RICHWOOD

RICHWOOD, O., June 24.—William C. Davis, 75, died at the home of his son Siebert Davis of 136 East Blagrove street at 2:30 a. m. today. He had been ill eight weeks after suffering a broken hip.

He was born in Mt. Gilead Oct. 22, 1859. His parents were Joshua Davis and Elizabeth Dalrymple Davis, both of Morrow county. He was married Aug. 5, 1884, at Edison, O., to Dora Bell Harris who died 12 years ago.

Surviving children are Mrs. Pearl Doudna, Glenn Davis, Siebert Davis, Dever Davis and Mrs. Harry Cunningham, all of Richwood, Orval Davis of Marysville, Mrs. Ruby Paugh of Columbus, Mrs. Edna Goss of Broadway, O., and Mrs. Walter Sipe of South Prospect street, Marion.

Funeral services will be *Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Meth*odist Protestant church at Claiborne, O., with burial at the York, O., cemetery. Rev. Franklin G. Markley of Marion will conduct the services.

MRS. W. H. SHIRK, 78, DIES AT HOME HERE

After an illness of 10 years, Mrs. Louisa Shirk, 78, of 251 Silver street, died as a result of heart trouble at her home early Sunday morning.

She was a charter member of Minnetonka Council No. 24, Degree of Pocahontas.

Born June 10, 1857, at Galena, O., she was a daughter of Jacob Moore and Marie Lambert Moore. She was married in Kenton in 1880 to William Henry Shirk, who survives.

A daughter, Mrs. Mary Stansberry of 159 Campbell street, a son, Fred J. Shirk of 251 Silver street, and a brother, Newton Moore of Cleveland, also survive.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the Boyd Funeral home and at 2:30 at Forest Glen Memorial chapel. Rev. W. Martell George will officiate. Burial will be in Forest Glen Memorial park.

MISS MIRIAM STROUD daughter of Mr and Mrs C A Stroud of 411 South State and Henry A Mickley son of Mrs M A Mickley of 211 S James street were united in marriage this morning at 11:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the two families.

Palms and ferns banked the altar which was lighted by tall candelabra. Rev Howard L Oleweiler pastor read the single ring ceremony.

Mr Stroud gave his daughter in marriage.

Gown of White Lace

The bride wore a Princess wedding gown of white lace made with long close fitting sleeves a cowl neckline and a slight train. Her veil of illusion was held by a cap edged in orange blossom. She wore pearls a gift from the bridegroom. The bridal flowers were Johanna Hill roses and gypsophila in an arm bouquet tied with a wide bow of white satin ribbon.

Miss Margaret Watrous the maid of honor wore a frock of white organza with a shirtwaist bodice and large puffed sleeves. Turquoise blue chiffon velvet were used for the long sash of the dress and the trimming for her wide white horsehair hat. Miss Watrous carried pink roses and pale blue delphinium.

Paul A Mickley brother of the bridegroom was the best man. W W Leonard Young, Ralph F Carhart, Edward N Sloan and Robert Dambach of Evans City Pa cousin of the bridegroom were ushers.

At 11 o'clock Miss Elma Sage organist and Harold Bradt vocalist began a half hour service of wedding music. Miss Sage played Andantino by LaMare, Only a Rose by Friml, Ah Sweet Mystery of Life, Indian Love Call by Friml and Syracuse Alma Mater. Mr Bradt's selections were Because by D'Hardelot, At Dawning by Cadman, Ich liebe dich by Grieg and Oh Promise Me by de Koven.

Master Robert Mickley of Evans City Pa lighted the altar candles preceding the ceremony.

After playing the wedding march from Lohengrin by Wagner Miss Sage played softly during the ceremony Alpha Delta Pi Sweetheart and I Love the Pin. The wedding party left the church to the Mendelssohn wedding march.

Mrs Stroud was in dusty pink crepe and net with a white hat and Mrs Mickley wore a flowered crepe with white accessories. Both wore shoulder bouquets of gardenias.

A wedding cake decorated the bride's table at Ringer's Inn on the Prospect road where breakfast was served to 40.

On Eastern Trip

Mr and Mrs Mickley left on a 10 day wedding trip through the east after which they will be at home at 272 Thew avenue. For traveling Mrs Mickley wore a peacock blue jacket dress with white hat and accessories.

Mrs Mickley was graduated from Harding High school in 1929 and attended Syracuse university at Syracuse N Y where she was a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Until the first of May she was employed as a case worker by the Marion County Relief Administration.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE GARRISON

Madge Is Reassured By Dicky's Confidence in the Safe Return of Her Father

I WAS AFRAID of that I said dolefully as Dicky said that his mother who had elected to have a dinner tray in the nursery would not wake Faith up if she were to [illegible] myself.

But what can you do about it? he asked reasonably, answered his own question with an emphatic No. A darned thing. So you get dolled up in your prettiest for this last dinner with your father and let the rest of your world go hang. Faith rarely wakes up at night during her first three or four hours of sleep does she?

Only once in a blue moon I said.

Well we'll pray for a nice green one, he said flippantly moving toward the door. What shall I tell Katie about your dinner and your father's?

That she may serve us at any time she is ready giving us five minutes notice beforehand I said. Will you see that the boys do not disturb us? Later when they have showered and are ready for bed—

And washed behind the ears Dicky struck in slyly.

When they are ready for bed I began again I have told them to come to Father's room and say goodby to him they thinking of course that it is because of their own journey. I hate to think what they will do when they come home to find him absent.

Then why think about it? he asked. After all you know your father will probably be at home again before the boys get back. As I understand it the plan is to have them spend the summer up there—

Do you really think he will get back so soon? I asked my spirits rising at a note of sincerity in his voice.

Of course goose he said with such assurance that I was im*measurably comforted* although I could not forbear a doubting note in it.

His words were the tonic—or the whiplash—that I needed. I squared my shoulders threw up my head and faced my husband resolutely.

Lists for Father

I can't begin to tell you how you've helped me I said. I can carry on now you'll see. By the way have you that list of livestock the boys wanted to take with them?

No I haven't. I left it with Jim. I can get it though if you want it.

I wish you would. I told him I promised father you know that I would show him the lists the boys had made out. He said he needed cheering memories.

He'll need a new set of risibles by the time he gets through with those Dicky predicted and we laughed upon the word when I dressed for my last dinner with my father [illegible] a [illegible] gown and informal dinner dress of dark blue [illegible] I had just slipped it over my head when Dicky came back into the room assuming a burlesqued melodramatic attitude as he entered. Then he suddenly sobered.

Madge Outlines Plan

The boys are going to smell two or three mice if they catch sight of you in that gown and realize that you have had dinner alone with Dad he warned me.

But I thought you knew I replied. I am coming down to the dining room. I will make a pretense of eating until the dessert comes on. Then I'll excuse myself on some pretext and go to Father's room. Katie will send up our dinner. I depend on you to keep the boys busy until we have finished.

In that way I can keep them from suspecting that there is anything unusual on the tapis. They've had such a full day that they will be sound asleep almost as soon as they get into bed. Did you bring that list of livestock?

Right here. He took the crumpled list from his pocket and handed it to me. "But what's the list of toys, Junior? Do you know?"

Frosted Cakes

Three fourths cup sugar two tablespoons shortening one egg one half cup [illegible] one fourth teaspoon salt and one half teaspoons baking powder one teaspoon vanilla three tablespoons cocoa one half [illegible] and one half cups flour.

Blend the shortening and sugar together add the unbeaten egg then beat thoroughly. Sift all dry [illegible] together then add alternately with buttermilk and vanilla. Bake in large muffin tins in a 375 degree F or moderate oven. Cool. Cut off the tops, then remove the soft center. Fill with [illegible] and flavored whipped cream. Replace the top and frost the whole cake or just cover the side and top rim with the following frosting.

One pound confectioners or XXXX sugar three tablespoons cocoa four tablespoons melted butter warm water.

Sift sugar and cocoa add melted butter and enough warm water to make of spreading consistency. Serves six.

Green Gage Ice

One cup sugar two cups water one and three fourths cups sieved canned or cooked green gages juice one orange.

Boil the sugar and water together for five minutes. Sieve the green gages then add with the orange juice to the sugar syrup.

Freeze in the automatic refrigerator until frozen for about one inch from the edge of the freezing tray. Beat once very thoroughly and complete freezing. Serves six.

Walnut Cookies

One and one half cups sugar one half cup shortening one fourth cup water two eggs one half to three fourths teaspoon salt one and one half teaspoons vanilla three and one fourth teaspoons baking powder one teaspoon soda three and one fourth cups flour one fourth cup black walnuts one fourth cup raisins.

Blend the sugar and shortening. Add the salt. Add the unbeaten eggs. Sift the baking powder and soda with the flour add a little to the raisins then blend the rest of the ingredients. The nuts should be cut fine and sprinkled on top of each cookie just before taking. Drop dough the size of walnuts about two inches apart on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in 425 degree or hot oven for eight minutes.

This dough may be stored in a covered bowl in your refrigerator for several weeks so that fresh hot cookies may be made at a few moments notice. Makes eight dozen cookies.

Apricot Refrigerator Cake

One large can apricots one fourth cup sugar one half cup apricot juice one tablespoon gelatine one fourth cup orange juice one cup evaporated milk—or one and one half cups whipping cream one teaspoon grated orange rind one pound lady fingers or one pound long cocoanut cracker one and one half teaspoons vanilla.

Scald the evaporated milk add one teaspoon gelatine softened in one tablespoon cold water then chill in a freezing tray until almost frozen. Place in a well chilled bowl. Whip until the milk has about three times its original volume. When somewhat thick add one teaspoon of lemon juice.

Strain apricots and press through a potato ricer. Add the sugar stirring occasionally until dissolved. Soak one tablespoon of gelatine in one half cup of apricot juice then melt over hot water. When melted add a little of the apricot pulp. Finally mix with the rest of the apricot pulp.

Combine the fruit and whipped evaporated milk or cream. Then pour into a mold lined around the sides and bottom with split lady fingers or crackers. After half filling the milk more lady fingers may be added. Top with whipped cream. Serves six to eight.

Marble Angel Food Cake

One cup cake or pastry flour less two tablespoons two tablespoons cocoa one and one third cups egg whites one teaspoon cream of tartar one half teaspoon salt one and one fourth cup granulated sugar one teaspoon vanilla.

Sift six tablespoons of the flour with the cocoa. Beat the egg whites until foamy then sift over them the mixed salt and cream of tartar. Continue beating until the egg whites are stiff and will stand up in peaks. Fold in the sugar lightly by thirds then using a wire whip fold in the flavoring. Put half this mixture into a second bowl and fold in the cocoa flour mixture. Into the other half fold the remaining eight tablespoons of flour. Carefully arrange spoonfuls of plain and chocolate batter alternately in a ten inch ungreased tube pan. Bake at 100 degrees F or moderate oven for thirty minutes or at 325 degrees F for one hour. Remove from the oven and invert until cool.

Orange Layer Cake

Two thirds cup shortening one and one half cups granulated sugar three eggs three cups cake or pastry flour three teaspoons baking powder one teaspoon salt three fourths cup orange juice one fourth cup water.

Blend the shortening and the sugar and cream together until light and fluffy. Add the eggs and beat well. Mix and sift the flour baking powder and salt then add to the first mixture alternately with the combined water and orange juice. Beat thoroughly. Place in two eight inch greased layer cake pans. Bake at 400 degrees or hot oven twenty five to thirty minutes. When cool spread with the following icing.

Four tablespoons orange juice four tablespoons melted butter grated rind of one orange three cups XXXX sugar.

Mix these ingredients and beat well.

CHAPTER FIVE

"My—What"

WHERE did you crash?" demanded Albery of the returned Rex Moore. "Who found you?"

"Crashed in a typhoon somewhere near the Marquesas Islands. I did the first hop to Fiji in fine time. And the next one too. Then I struck a bad patch, the worst one I ever knew. It was no good. I was helpless. I wasn't forced down. I was hurled down.

"Don't remember much about it. Don't know why I wasn't smashed to pieces. Must have been unconscious for days. I had been picked up by a yacht and was taken to California. They told me the storm died down as quickly as it had come up. The people who owned the yacht looked after me for more than a year."

"But why didn't you send word home?"

"Didn't feel like it. They were decent folk and kept it dark. I was a useless log. What was the good? Better that you should think me dead."

"You always were a queer chap. But after you recovered your sight?"

"I was down and out—a bit mad I think. I owed my life, my eyes to those people. But I gave them the slip and made my way to New York somehow or other and picked up a bit of a living there."

"Did you fly under another name?"

"No. I didn't fly at all. I thought I was through with that. I—I just picked up a living."

"Why have you come back now?"

"Because I had to. I got a change of heart." He gave a bitter little laugh. "I told myself I'd been a fool doing nothing but just cursing because I'd had bad luck. I thought of you, Mr Albery. I thought you might give me another chance. I'm all right now. I can trust myself. I want to carry on if you don't think I'm too much of a crock and too old for the job."

"I'm so glad to see you I don't know what to say," was Albery's warm reply.

And, then, abruptly, he fell into silence.

He remembered how only a few days ago, he had said to young Mrs. Moore in his office, "I sometimes wonder if you still hope against hope that he might come back?"

And here he was, standing before him, Rex Moore, her husband back from the dead. In the amazement and shock of the scene he had not thought of the girl before. That made it more incomprehensible than ever. The young man [illegible] his head for a while. And no wonder.

"Moore," he said, "haven't you let anybody know that you're back in England alive?"

"No. I hate fuss. Somebody might have recognized me. I'd have had to tell this silly yarn a thousand times. I've been in London a week just trying to get used to it."

"But my dear boy, haven't you tried to get in touch with your people?"

"I have no people. You've forgotten that."

"But haven't you tried to get in touch with your wife?"

"My what?" The young man's back was turned to Albery. He was finishing a whisky and soda in which they had been celebrating his return. It sounded rather as if he were choking.

"Your wife. It's the most extraordinary thing, your wife is working for me at the office. It almost seems as if we were both dreaming, doesn't it? But we're not."

Rex Moore turned his eyes on Albery's face in a hard stare. For a moment they really looked like the eyes of a blind man but Albery did not notice that.

He told the airman in a few rapid words how his young wife, believing herself his widow, of course, had been in a rather bad way out in Australia and had been discovered by his friend and colleague in Sydney and sent home, and how ever since she had been a valued member of the London office staff.

"I suppose, my dear boy, you thought she was still in Australia," he concluded.

"I didn't know she was in England," was the slow reply.

"We were so glad to do what we could to help her. Of course you mustn't blame yourself, you hadn't time to make a will or anything like that. You'd only just been married, hadn't you, when you took off?"

"I hadn't anything to make a will with," was the answer. It sounded rather callous to the older man.

But, then Moore had always been a funny sort of chap. Not much social and domestic side to him. Albery had been astonished to hear that he had married, although there had been rumors, he knew, in Australia where he had spent several months preparing for his great flight.

"This is a bit of a shock to me—my wife being here and working for you," Moore went on. "It certainly is extraordinary. I'm sure it's very good of you to have looked after her." His face wore a curious fixed expression that Albery took for remorse.

"I can guess. It rather brings it home to you that you left the poor girl without news of yourself all this time. It might have caused a lot of trouble, Moore. She has thought herself a widow."

"You're right, it might have made a lot of trouble," said the airman thoughtfully. "I'm rather overcome. I apologize if I seem foolish."

"Joy doesn't kill," answered Albery [illegible] different thing. There was a sudden crisis in his brain, a wave of angry heat, the first pang of jealousy of his life.

"Now you will be off to see her. We can talk business tomorrow. Of course you must get back to your job. I'll be behind you. Don't worry about that. There are still a few records to be broken and the Pacific is always there."

"Do you know her address?" asked the airman.

Laurie gets a terrible shock tomorrow.

Leesville Man Finds Vendol Best Medicine For Stomach

Suffered from sour stomach and nausea. Constipation was bad and back ached all the time. Feels great now, he says

[illegible] ave never run across any [illegible] as good as Vendol for the [illegible] declared Mr Orlando O [illegible] a retired coal miner of [illegible] Ohio near his city. [illegible] ered that no matter what [illegible] food would sour in my [illegible] causing acid risings to [illegible] into my throat and this [illegible] terribly nauseated. I had [illegible] from constipation for [illegible] his condition brought [illegible] aches and left me with a [illegible]

[illegible] never free of pains in [illegible] and limbs and I had a weakness which called me [illegible] the night. This condition [illegible] d pains in my joints and [illegible] which were quite severe.

[illegible] all around here were [illegible] Vendol so I got one and [illegible] of the little Vendol laxa[illegible] and this treatment has made a big change in my [illegible] I [illegible] ed the con[illegible] and now my bowels are [illegible]. The headaches [illegible] disappearing. My [illegible] ced up and I can [illegible] I want without later [illegible] from sour stomach and [illegible] [illegible] back and limbs [illegible] less and less and I know as I continue the Vendol treatment I will eliminate this rheumatic condition altogether. I do not hesitate to recommend Vendol to anyone and I am only too glad to have found such a remarkable medicine."

MR. ORLANDO O HAIDA

When the stomach [illegible] gets out of order the poison [illegible] appears [illegible] many other [illegible] such as pains in the joints and muscles, constipation, dizziness, spots before the eyes, [illegible] tired, no-good feeling, nervousness that [illegible] cannot [illegible] except Vendol quickly [illegible] the stomach and gets the bowels acting well and soon you feel like a different person.

Vendol is being especially introduced by W N Sams Pharmacy 121 South Main Street, and is sold by all leading druggists throughout the Marion district. Adv.

Saratoga Grill Sponsors Crack Young Softball Team

Sponsor Realizes Dream in Equipping Boys' Group

New Uniforms Provided Aggregation in Commercial League; Fast Players in Lineup.

Realizing a dream of several years standing, S W Truman, proprietor of the Saratoga Grill, has equipped and placed on the field a softball team seeking honors in the Commercial League of the city recreation circuits.

The aggregation playing under the name of the Saratoga Grill is composed of young fellows, all of whom are [illegible] in high school or just over the high school age. The team is one of the snappiest and hardest fighting outfits in city softball competition this year.

New red and blue uniforms bearing the name Saratoga Grill have been provided the boys. Truman keeps them well supplied with bats and other equipment. Although the boys have [illegible] considerable hard luck in early season games they are one of the most promising young teams competing in the softball circuits.

With any kind of breaks for the second half of the Commercial League season the Saratoga Grill team should reach a place in the first division. With four setbacks credited against them, only the weirdest twists of events would land them in first place. But one can never tell about the final standings.

Regardless of whether the Saratoga Grill team climbs to the top of the Commercial League or not it will furnish top-ranking nines plenty of headaches before the season is finished. And their sponsor Truman derives as much pleasure from watching his team play as anyone. He never misses a game and is one of the team's staunchest rooters.

Pitching for the Saratoga team are Joe Castner and Paul Eshman while Bob Robbins is behind the plate for the Saratoga grill team. Other players on the team are LaMar Faught, Don Cressap, Ralph Young, George Conroy, Don Conroy, Jack Hanley, Harold Callahan, Smart and Roy Lowry.

H R VanOss is manager of the team. The Saratoga team will start its second half of the season Friday night.

"HERE'S MY HOUSE"

Applicants for HOLC Loans Give Odd Replies

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 24—The Home Owners Loan Corp requirement that applicants supply photographs of the homes on which they seek loans has resulted in these replies:

"I inclose herewith the front and side of my house as requested."

"Please excuse me for not sending pictures on account of the weather. As soon as the weather is prevailable I will snap the pictures."

"I have received five letters from you asking for pictures of my house. If you want these pictures please let me know and I will send them."

"I inclose my bungalow and will send the big house to you as soon as it comes back from the drug store."

SKILL, EQUIPMENT BRING GOOD PICTURES

The combination of skill and knowledge with good equipment is the reason why so many people visit Adam Bauer's studio located at 12[illegible] South Main street when in need of any photographic work.

In these days we live in a world of pictures. Time was you know when the traveling man carried a dozen trunks and displayed a big stock of goods. He used to visit his patrons once in six months and his coming was an event. Now that is all changed. Instead of the many trunks he carries a portfolio of photographs of the articles he has for sale and he visits the merchant about once a month. The better his photographs are the more sales he is likely to make.

Commercial photography is an important aid to the quick transaction of business. To find a man who can make a different picture, knows how and who has the equipment to do it is a discovery of importance. That is what many have found who have seen the work of Bauer's studio. In addition to being portrait photographer of distinction Bauer's studio is the master of details of commercial photography and has given Marion a fine service in this respect. For Marion products [illegible] all over the world and the use of the camera with good judgment is a big help in selling them.

MARIONITES THINK OF RITZ WHEN HUNGRY

Good food is good food the world over. That is why when restaurants are mentioned Marion folks say, "Let's go to the Ritz Grill." At the Ritz Grill even the little things are not forgotten. Hot dishes are served piping hot. Cold dishes come in crispy chill. Just the little difference in their sauces and seasonings works a wonderful transformation in the satisfaction from their meals.

The Ritz specializes in ravioli, spaghetti, chow mein, frog legs, scallops and sea foods and their steaks, chops and chicken dinners are sure to please the most particular.

For those who are hungry and yet do not know exactly just what they would like to eat—they should try the Ritz's special appetizer—French Anti Pasta. Composed of lettuce, tuna fish, anchovies, Italian ham, celery hearts, ripe and green olives, tomatoes, Spanish pimento and a small hot pepper, this most pleasing dish will surely satisfy any salad lover.

Dining to be at its best requires atmosphere. The Ritz provides this in a generous measure. Here the food is always delicious and satisfying. Here prices are reasonable. The service is gracious [illegible] to your convenience [illegible] here everything is noticeably better. The Ritz Grill is located at 154 South Main street.

MARION IS OVERNIGHT FROM PACIFIC COAST

Marion is now only overnight from six major cities on the Pacific coast, according to word received here today by [illegible] Marshall, city passenger agent, from Don Wilson, district traffic manager of United Air Lines for the Toledo-Cleveland district.

This is the first time it has been possible for business people to leave central Ohio and have breakfast virtually anywhere on the Pacific coast. This new service results from United Air Lines inaugurating faster schedules on its Mid-Continent route linking New York, Cleveland, To[illegible] [illegible] and Chicago with [illegible] coast cities. The plane leaves Cleveland [illegible] another from Toledo at [illegible] with arrival at [illegible] Los Angeles [illegible] San Francisco [illegible] correspondingly early schedules [illegible] Oakland, Sacramento, [illegible] Seattle and Spokane.

United Air Lines is now operating [illegible] miles an hour [illegible] twin-[illegible] Boeing transports [illegible] between Cleveland and [illegible] New York and to the Pacific coast, the route westward from Chicago being via Des Moines, Omaha, Cheyenne and Salt Lake City, where the lines radiate northwest to Seattle and [illegible] west to San Francisco and southwest to Los Angeles and San Diego, the [illegible]

[illegible] flights [illegible] of United [illegible] two pilots, a stewardess and [illegible]

A Buying Guide

BEFORE you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motorcar, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper. For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of everything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in this paper are so interesting, it is difficult to see how any one could overlook them . . fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones! It is time well spent . . . always.

Cleveland Club Whittles Yankees' Lead to Three Game

INDIANS WIN, 6 TO 5 WHEN LEFTY GOMEZ WEAKENS IN NINTH

Greenberg and Jim Collins New Pretenders for Home Run Throne

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The [illegible] Cleveland Indians seeking to roll the Yankees back to the [illegible] of the American League field did a good job for the second straight day when they defeated the league leaders [illegible] Lefty Gomez [illegible] Indians hit [illegible] and pitched [illegible] paved the way for the winning run in the ninth. Cleveland trails the Yanks now by three games.

Chicago and Boston split a twin bill, the White Sox taking the opener 4 to 2 behind Ted Lyons and the Red Hose replying with a heavy assault on Silent John Whitehead to win 8 to [illegible]. It was the fifth straight defeat for Whitehead. The Athletics pounded virtually the whole St Louis mound staff for 31 hits and trounced the Browns 11 to 7 and 13 to 3.

New Kings Seen

A baseball season which already has seen the fading of a good many stars seems to be setting up two new pretenders to the throne of swat vacated by Babe Ruth and so far unclaimed by his logical successor Lou Gehrig.

Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers and Jim (Ripper) Collins of the St Louis Cardinals are the current leaders of the belting brigade. Both are threatening to do great things before the season ends.

With only 60 of the season's 154 games gone for each Greenberg has batted in 75 runs clouting 19 home runs to hold the major league lead. Collins who hit his fifth homer in consecutive games and his 15th of the season in the Cards opening victory over Brooklyn yesterday has knocked home 60 counters. That seems to entitle both to shoot at the records of 190 runs batted in by Hack Wilson and 184 by Gehrig.

After smacking his homer and driving in five runs while the Cards took the opener 13 to 2 yesterday Collins was slowed down a trifle in the second when Brooklyn hammered out a 10 to 6 decision.

Greenberg also wound up on the losing side when Washington pounded Joe Sullivan in the early innings to trim the Tigers 12 to 7. Hank did his best by socking Homer No 19 with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Reds Win Two

The Cards even break with Brooklyn cost them second place in the National League as Pittsburgh's Pirates bowled over Boston twice 4 to 3 and 7 to 4. Gus Suhr produced a victory with a ninth inning homer for the second straight day in the opener.

The Pirates continued to trail the Giants by seven games as the league leaders opened against the fourth place Cubs with an 8 to 0 triumph. Fred Fitzsimmons scattering 11 hits effectively earned his fourth victory and his fourth shutout.

The Reds turned back Philadelphia's challenge for sixth place by sweeping a bargain bill 5 to 3 and 5 to 2.

OWENS TAKES GLORY OF COLLEGE CLASSIC

Feats of O S U Flash Out shadow Team Victory of Trojans

By The Associated Press

BERKELEY Calif June 24—Four way champion of the National Collegiate A A track and field meet Jesse Owens Ohio State Negro athlete wonder headed today for new worlds to conquer leaving behind a remarkable chapter of individual prowess unequalled in the 14 year history of this country wide competition.

Prolonging a season of amazing performance Owens will dig his spikes into the cinderpath next at San Diego in the Far Western A A U championships Wednesday and Thursday. The great collegiate athletic army assembled here for the N C A A championships disbanded with new meet records set in the broad jump javelin throw and pole vault.

World's records were not even threatened except in the broad jump which Owens won at 26 feet 1¾ inches. It was three quarters of an inch behind the officials mark held by Chuhei Nambu of Japan but more than six inches short of Owens best effort to date.

To university of Southern California went the team championship with 71 1-5 points but to the unbeatable Owens went individual glory that far overshadowed the collective efforts of the Trojans and all personal rivals.

Owens won the 100 and 220 yard dashes in 9.5 and 21.5 seconds respectively and climaxed the finals with a convincing victory over Glenn Hardin of Louisville State defending champion with the 220 yard low hurdles. The time was 23.4. He clinched the broad jump in Friday's trials.

Runners bucked a 10 mile an hour head wind at Berkeley accounting for the slow times. Ohio State's second place in team standings was due to 40 points by Owens and 1-5 of a point by John Wonsowitz who tied for sixth in the pole vault.

Year's Largest Ring Crowd To See Louis-Carnera Fight

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK [illegible] June 24—The search for [illegible] ends tomorrow night in the Yankee Stadium where the largest boxing crowd of the year will see if the youthful [illegible] from Detroit Joe Louis has enough explosive power to [illegible] through the ponderous defense of Primo Carnera.

Acclaimed the most terrific puncher in heavyweight ranks since Jack Dempsey, Louis will attempt to cut down his 260-pound opponent on the spot where the celebrated Manassa Mauler flattened Jack Sharkey eight years ago.

The betting was even money that the Brown Bomber would do it well inside the limit of 15 rounds but a good share of the experts at least will be convinced only when they see it done.

Has Great Record

Louis will make his Metropolitan debut after a sensational build up. Only 21 years old and barely a year out of the amateur ranks the Detroit Negro has compiled an amazing record in the middle west. He has scored 18 knockouts in 22 professional fights. He is reputed to have had every opponent he has ever met amateur or pro on the floor at least once with his short deadly punches.

He has yet to feel the pressure under fire however so that it remains to be seen how effective he will be against a fighter of Carnera's size courage and staying power.

No one expects Carnera for all his tremendous bulk to bowl over the youthful Negro. Primo's punch is strictly of the barnstorming variety but the Italian giant no longer is lightly regarded.

Fast for his size and exceedingly game despite his tendency to become flustered by a heavy attack Carnera has developed an effective left hand to support his bear like tactics at close range.

It remains to be seen whether he can forestall another such battering as he took at Max Baer's hands a year ago.

If the fight goes the limit and he hasn't been on the floor too often Carnera should have an excellent chance to win on points. The victor will be matched in September with Max Baer.

Is Ambitious

Louis is gunning for the heavyweight championship ambitious to be the first of his race to scale the top since Jack Johnson ruled Fistiana but the goal looks a long way off. The plans for Champion James J Braddock do not call for any taste of the dynamite in the young Negro's fists.

If the predictions of Promoter Mike Jacobs are fulfilled the fight will draw more than 50,000 cash customers and a gate approximating $400,000.

These figures are sensational measured by current box office standards. They would mean the second largest house in fight history for a heavyweight mixed [illegible] Los Angeles [illegible] of the [illegible] Arena [illegible] 1926.

[illegible] at [illegible] will [illegible] a sixth [illegible] Pietro Pirrone [illegible] Paaske. The [illegible] for 9 [illegible] [illegible] If the weather forces a postponement the [illegible] will be held Wednesday night.

OHIO AMATEUR GOLF PRELIMINARY EVENTS GET UNDER MOTION

Cincinnati "Pay As You Play" Swinger Takes Public Links Title

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI June 24—With the Ohio public links golf crown resting upon the [illegible] brow of 40 year old Phil Cleasy of the Cincinnati Sycamore club after two days of bitter warfare over the 72-hole medal play route followers of the mashie swingers turned their attention to new scenes today, to the annual state amateur classic at the Kenwood Country club.

Cleasy who shunned golf until six years ago when he became too old for his favorite pastime and first love semi pro baseball—was the class of the field in the "pay as you go" tourney at the Pids[illegible] [illegible] club. His 298 for the 72 holes was three strokes better than the mark compiled by second place Byron (Barney) Hunt of Columbus and seven ahead of the 306 which brought third honors to Ray Mitchell of Dayton.

Hunt and Cleasy were tied with three holes to go but Hunt wilted under the steady barrage of the veteran and the Cincinnati distillery employe won going away. Cleasy's lone previous victory in golf was the Cincinnati Metropolitan handicap in 1933.

Dayton's four man team of Harry Voiege Paul Bohardt Ted Kielbaso and Ray Mitchell took the honors in that department with a total of 1,2[illegible] strokes. In taking the championship Cleasy opened with a 70 one under par and the only score of the tourney under or even with perfect figures followed with a 76 and then linked up a pair of 76s the final day.

Today at the Kenwood course where the National Amateur was played in 1933 the outstanding stars of the Buckeye links brigade are staging a pro-amateur tourney —the last act before the state amateur gets into full swing Tuesday with 18 holes of medal play. Another 18 will be played Wednesday and the low 32 for the 36 holes will scrap for the championship in match play events through Wednesday.

About 150 Simon Pures are expected to take part in the amateur event with the outstanding performer in the public links field invited to participate.

BREWERS WIN SECOND PLACE IN A. A. RACE

Columbus Drops Two as Milwaukee Climbs in Standing

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO June 24—The Milwaukee Brewers who earlier in the season found it easier to win on foreign fields than at home today had worked up a six game winning streak in their own park to take over second place in the American association.

After polishing off Toledo four times the Brewers followed up yesterday by whipping Columbus in both games of a double header 4 to 3 and 12 to 7. The winning spurt boosted Al Sothoron's club from fourth place where it rested Friday to a threatening position two and one half games behind the pace setting Minneapolis Millers.

Minneapolis winning string was snapped at eight in a row when Goodman Posena homer gave Louisville a 4 to 3 decision in the second game of a doubleheader. Walter Tauscher was credited with his eleventh victory of the season in the first game in which the Millers batted out a 10 to 3 margin.

Indianapolis won its first game of the season in the Twin Cities by downing St Paul 4 to 3 in the second game of their doubleheader and did it at the expense of Monte Stratton ace of the Saint hurling corps. In the opener a pair of home runs by Bill Norman and one each by Manager McCarty McManus and Ivy Shiver helped Lee Stine to an 11 to 2 victory. The Indian triumph ended a six game losing streak which dropped them from second to third place.

Toledo and Kansas City also wound up even on the day's work. The Mud Hens won the first game 7 to 5 while the Blues came back for an 8 to 7 decision in the night cap.

DISORDER CLOSES RACING AT DAYTON

By The Associated Press

DAYTON O June 24 — Horse racing at the Montgomery county fairgrounds track was at a standstill today as a result of a disorder which marked one of the events on Saturday's program.

Several thousand irate fans wrecked the judges stand during the disorder which broke out when Corida an even money favorite was left at the post in the eighth race. Subsequently the fair board suspended racing at the track until the state racing commission can consider the situation. The commission was expected to meet probably today.

R L Haines chairman of the fair board said the decision to suspend the program was not in condemnation of the sport as conducted here but rather to put the whole thing up to the governing body. The board leases the track to the Dayton Jockey club.

OUTDOOR MAT SEASON TO START TONIGHT

New Feature Arranged for 20 Minute Opener at Open Air Arena

First of the 1935 outdoor wrestling programs will be seen at the Uncapher avenue arena tonight it is expected as balmy weather came on Monday for the first time in three weeks.

Fast and rough mat work will inaugurate the outdoor season as six light heavyweights climb through the ropes tonight. Appearing in a double main go program will be Paul Orth vs Ken Hollis a pair of tough New Mexico grapplers and Lon Chaney of Indianapolis against Cowboy Stan Rogers of Tucson Ariz.

Word was received here this morning that neither Dr Barney Cosneck former Big Ten wrestler from the University of Illinois or Jack Fulton of St Louis would be able to appear in a feature opener. The 20-minute event starting at 8:30 o'clock will bring together Bad Boy Brown and Al Vantres the Bostonian who took a defeat last week from Stan Rogers.

Both main goes will be for an hour and a half time limit with two falls to win. A large crowd is expected to watch the rough and tumble outdoor inaugural.

GRILL TEAM SPLITS

The Saratoga Grill softball team divided its two games Sunday afternoon with the Upper Sandusky Elks at Garfield park. The Saratoga team dropped the first close tilt 8 to 7 and won the second 2 to 1. Fishman was on the mound in the opener and Everly pitched the second game.

Boring from Within.

President William Green's declaration of war on communists in unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor commits his organization to the performance of a big job. A hint as to the size [illegible] out by the president of the International Fur Workers union who replied to Mr Green's declaration: "As long as union men or women remain in good standing and conduct themselves in a union manner we can take no action against them for whatever they may do outside the union in the way of political or other activities."

President Green's declaration was made for the benefit of the International Fur Workers union which has chilled the hearts of the Federation's careful officials by forming an united front with the Fur Workers Industrial union, controlled by communists. Thus the issue has been joined cleanly. The president of the American Federation of Labor says "No" and the president of a powerful unit within the Federation says "Yes." Either a purge or a separation is inevitable.

Unionism and communism don't go together according to President Green, head of a labor organization whose membership is predominantly conservative. Unionism has nothing to do with political beliefs according to the spokesman for a union which has more than an average portion of communists in it. President Green fears that if Communists are permitted to bore from within in the fur workers' union they would make their way into other unions.

It's bound to be a keen struggle, one that will affect deeply the union labor situation in the United States. Traditionally the American Federation of Labor has been a defender of capitalism. There is rising a faction which insists the Federation's first purpose is defense of unionism, that capitalism isn't any worthier of defense than communism. It would seem timely for some expert to publish a report on labor's control of its working conditions and wages in communistic Russia.

Accomplishment

Col. Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris eight years ago made him an international hero. Yet in the long view that is not his greatest accomplishment.

Unlike many men who become conspicuous by some outstanding performance Col. Lindbergh has been able to regain his balance despite the flattery of admiration.

Gradually he is establishing for himself a broader foundation of accomplishment than he stood on as the first man to perform a daring deed. On Friday the world heard of his part in the development of a piece of apparatus which enables science to keep vital organs alive and functioning outside the human body. A new horizon of research has been brought to view.

Where are the heroes of yesterday? [illegible] not all have outlived the tenure of their fame, resentful of their [illegible] to remain in the limelight. Col. Lindbergh, who might have made the same error, somehow escaped it. His admirers do not believe it was accidental.

Reliable Information

The blue eagle's claws have been [illegible] off, its wings clipped and its beak muzzled but it still has a voice. It can talk even if it can't scratch and bite.

By presidential order the revised NRA will support a fact finding board in [illegible] to keep [illegible] on what industrialists and business men are doing along the line of [illegible] and wage changes.

According to certain spokesmen for the administration [illegible] chiseling, that arch crime of [illegible] will be [illegible]. They are filled [illegible] to make the [illegible] perfect [illegible]

[illegible] can do [illegible] less than [illegible] recognized legal responsibility for the various practices which [illegible] are known as chiseling [illegible] will do what he can do.

It seems to be limited to [illegible] reliable information about [illegible] which are disp[illegible] the fact find[illegible] propaganda which it expe[illegible] interests will level against the revised NRA. The ideal of cooperation between government and business seems [illegible] again.

In other words the board's function will be to keep alert for chances to say "I told you so." An employer in Podunk cuts wages—"I told you so." A manufacturer in New York cuts prices—"I told you so." Maybe the country will get so worked [illegible] The atmosphere [illegible] around [illegible] in [illegible] of the [illegible] a [illegible] telling [illegible] If conti[illegible] and [illegible] there.

Divided Sympathies

Gov. Davey is doing [illegible] expresses [illegible]

[illegible] expected [illegible] the departure [illegible] can not [illegible] there [illegible] in part.

The [illegible] has taken approximately nine million dollars from the budget so far. Apparently he [illegible] up yet. He has given [illegible] will not function emergency [illegible] up the [illegible].

Of course Gov. Davey will not have gained the [illegible] economy axe unless he anticipated [illegible] political benefit. That charge has [illegible] him. It is charged [illegible] that he permitted the legislature to make large appropriations so he could play the hero role by reducing them. He is accused of insincerity, of ruthlessness, of betrayal of the public interest, of destruction and of almost everything under the sun.

Regardless of Gov. Davey's critics, regardless of the wisdom of some details of his economy drive and regardless of the entirely valid criticism of his action in many particulars, he is experiencing nothing that wouldn't be experienced by any executive who attempted to reduce public expenditures. There is no easy, sweet way to save money. If there were President Roosevelt might have been able to keep his economy pledge.

Gov. Davey will win some admiration and [illegible] contempt by his economy drive. If nothing happens he will save Ohio a great deal of money. Perhaps it's time to remember that Ohio has been demanding that very thing. Did Gov. Davey make a mistake by taking the demand seriously?

Dividers

A distribution of wealth makes a good rallying cry for politicians. It appeals to every voter who thinks he would gain something in the process.

The idea is fascinating. It fits into the new deal program perfectly. The poker chips all will be turned in and divided equally. Then everybody will be able to win.

In fact there's only one thing obviously wrong with redistributing wealth. It would be a good deal like redistributing hair so bald men would get what their more fortunate brothers didn't need. Hair can't be transplanted successfully. Neither can wealth. It has a tendency to disappear when it is taken from its original environment.

Wealth has to be developed and created. Occasionally a lucky fellow who happens to get a bright idea at the right time and in the right place succeeds in piling up an unusual amount of it. Thereupon people start talking about the desirability of getting their fingers into his money bag. He has too much power, they say. He isn't good for the country. He's unpatriotic because he has [illegible] of money and the power that goes with it.

It's plain that men with huge fortunes are not going to be able to live happily in the United States much longer. The clamor for their gold has become so widespread that even the White House is joining in the chorus. Let it. But the wealth

The process [illegible] to be slow. The millennium will be postponed indefinitely. In fact it may be many years before a disillusioned politician stumbles one day on to the idea that a country which [illegible] interested in dividing up the fortunes of men who have made money than in building up the fortunes of men who are [illegible] money probably is [illegible] the wrong track. That will be more obvious after the wealth dividers have discovered that the value of a fortune is determined largely by its connection with its builder. When the connection is broken value tends to disappear. The dividers would find themselves splitting up a constantly [illegible] pile of gold but that thought won't deter them.

After two years or more of federal alphabetical agencies the [illegible] have at last given us [illegible] that gets unanimous approval.

The NRA at least [illegible] a contribution to the records of ornithology. It definitely determined the life span of a blue eagle.

Behind The News In
Washington And Wall Street

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The political frosting was so thick on President Roosevelt's wealth taxing program that some confusion has developed as to what is the cake underneath, if there is a cake.

The best tax economists outside the government have been carrying on among themselves to separate the froth from the substance. What they have found is that no matter how you slice these wealth sharing suggestions they still amount to little more than good campaign slogans. Not only from them but also from good New Deal sources you can learn off the record that this phase was intended primarily as a little political sweetening for Huey Long, who has been sour on the New Deal lately.

Wealth Sharing

Mr. Roosevelt wisely neglected to mention any rates for his wealth sharing inheritance taxes. This makes it difficult but not impossible to get a good idea of what to expect from them.

The only rate guide you have is the one offered by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau a few weeks ago. When the bonus was up he suggested a schedule of extra heavy inheritance rates matching existing surtax rates. He estimated they would net $300,000,000 a year, possibly more. President Roosevelt does not want to go that far. So if you take the $300,000,000 revenue expectation from this source you will have an optimistic advance guess.

If you slice this up among 130,000,000 people you will find that your slice would be $2.30 a year, which you would not get because it would be applied to reduction of the federal debt.

And if you apply it to a $29,000,000,000 debt and compare it with an $8,500,000,000 budget, you can see that Mr. Roosevelt will have to go out and slay a lot of millionaires fast to get his books balanced that way.

The truth is that the government may break up a few hundred fortunes this way, but that the great bulk of the wealth of the country does not lie in these bulging reservoirs.

Experience

To get another way: 133 [illegible] taxes were paid in 1933 on estates valued at more than a million dollars each. The net taxable worth of these estates was $[illegible] the federal tax paid $[illegible] If the government had seized these estates entirely by a 100 per cent tax on them it would have received only $250,000,000 more than [illegible] did. No one is [illegible] to go more than half that [illegible] including Mr. Roosevelt.

[illegible] Cents

Since he [illegible] off the plan for taxing more heavily the incomes of more than a million dollars, [illegible] you will find the same thing. But from a revenue standpoint the meat itself is rather thin. If you take a million dollar corporation income as the dividing line between big and little business and apply Mr. Roosevelt's formula you will get $2,000,000 more revenue each year above the line and lose $2,000,000 below it. (Based on returns of 1932, last year available.) The net gain on this basis would be $10,000,000 a year.

Conclusion

Add it all up and you will find if Mr. Roosevelt had seized and confiscated all estates and all incomes over a million dollars in 1933 he would have obtained only $311,000,000 more than he did—$2.95 for each citizen in the United States. And if his corporation tax had been in effect that year he would have received $10,000,000 more.

These figures represent depression fortunes and depression incomes. As times get better the revenue would increase but the figures adequately illustrate the impossibility of making the rich pay more than a small share of the freight. They also show there is more in Mr. Roosevelt's tax cake than revenue raising.

Answer

One smart political economist has estimated that each single letter in each word of the tax message would bring 100 votes to Roosevelt, which observation covers that end of the situation adequately.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The widespread impression that the treasury took a big chance in buying francs to save the French gold standard from collapse is incorrect. This would have been true if Secretary Morgenthau had purchased paper francs subject to possible devaluation—but he didn't. All he bought was gold—under a pledge from the Bank of France to ship it here even if an embargo had to be clamped on all other gold exports. There was no more risk to that than to bidding a grand slam with 13 trumps.

The whole incident has been played up as something terrifically significant. Well posted New Yorkers can't see it. There's no new policy involved in the early acquisition of gold in large quantities. We've been willing right along to take all the gold that came our way. As for [illegible] the gold standard, it's a safe bet that Mr. Morgenthau was more concerned about protecting the dollar from the sharp rise that would have followed more [illegible] chaos in France. There's plenty of evidence that it's undervalued in foreign exchange and need all the check reins the treasury can devise to keep it from [illegible] and [illegible] all hopes of rebuilding our [illegible]

Wise observers say the treasury's action was as great a relief to the Guaranty Trust as it was to the Bank of France. The Guaranty [illegible] had been selling dollars and buying gold. But it couldn't get [illegible] of France—due to shipping restrictions—and stood to lose [illegible] in case of a sudden embargo. The Bank of France promised free shipment regardless [illegible] much [illegible] have been used to keep the [illegible] The [illegible] when the gold belonged [illegible] Comment [illegible] Mr. Jean Tannery's appreciation of Mr. Morgenthau's [illegible] was tactful enough [illegible] expressed [illegible]

Restriction

[illegible] Bank of France [illegible] exchange [illegible] fact that private American banks couldn't take the bank's gold if they had to leave it in France—which was necessary—for fear of embargo troubles. The bank was ready and willing to exchange its metal for dollars—but with practically no takers until Uncle Sam came along. Under those conditions its huge gold reserves were futile as a guarantee of safety.

Bait

Financial circles learn that both Paris and London have dropped delicate hints that they are ready to talk stabilization if we are ready to discuss final settlement of the war debts.

This sounds fair enough—but there's a hitch. It's painfully clear that the British and French idea of a settlement is to buy off a billion dollars worth of debt with a few nickels. They want to be free of the stigma of default—but they don't care to pay much for the privilege.

Washington is reported to be profoundly uninterested in the feelers. New York understands that our government has no objection to considering reasonable quid pro quos but balks at being played for a sucker.

Mild

The house subcommittee's modification of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill ties in exactly with our prediction that the holding companies' fate would eventually be left to the discretion of the securities exchange commission.

The setup for this compromise has been in the making for some time. Insiders say that Roosevelt will accept it despite his outward insistence on the death sentence—and has been ready to do so all along. His press conference interpretation [illegible] groups like Public Service of New Jersey and [illegible] companies like North American would be exempt confirms this.

Utility leaders expect a floor fight in the house to restore the original [illegible] but have no fear that it will succeed. They further [illegible] the senate will fall in line for the mild house measure with surprisingly little fuss.

Recapture

New York merchants have a keen eye on the innovation of a Philadelphia store in extending a 1 per cent discount for retail cash purchases and 1 per cent for payment within 30 days. They figure this might prove a worthwhile answer to credit problems—especially in cutting the cost of bookkeeping and collection.

Many department stores are extending the principle of installment purchases to cover a wide variety of items—including men's clothing. In some cases the offer runs of the shop on an installment basis. They hope this departure will recapture some of the business they've been losing to mail order houses.

Misplaced
